History

In December of 1998 the Arkansas Division of Child Care and Early Childhood Education and the Arkansas Head Start State Collaboration Project formed a collaborative partnership of all early childhood professionals in Arkansas. It was the goal of the collaboration to bring to the table everyone who served the needs of young children in the state. Early in the collaborative process the following vision statement was developed.

All early childhood professionals in Arkansas value a coordinated professional development system based upon research and best practice, which contains high quality professional development opportunities, and allows for the development of career pathways to meet diverse needs of individuals.

The collaborative process eventually became the Arkansas Early Childhood Professional Development System (AECPDS). In carrying out the vision initially three work groups were formed: Core Competencies, Career Lattice/Registry and Higher Education. The Core Competency Work group first met in March of 1999 and through the course of their work established ten competencies. The Career Lattice/Registry group became two groups: The SPECTRUM, which contains the career lattice and The AECPDS Registry. The ten core competencies, the SPECTRUM and the Registry became official in 2004 with the promulgation of the policy document.

In 2007 the SPECTRUM advisory committee reconvened and examined the use of the document that had become known as the SPECTRUM. One of the many issues that arose with this examination was at which level of professional development (foundation, intermediate or advanced levels) to place the many professional development opportunities conducted within the state. Another issue that was discussed was the vagueness in understanding of the current ten Core Competencies. Guidelines were needed and a Core Competency Work Group was appointed.

In October of 2007, the Core Competency Work Group began by reviewing the professional literature and the work of other states that had developed leveled competencies. Through this review, the work group recommended eight Key Content Areas, with three levels of competencies. The original group used CDA, NAEYC and state P4 licensure standards in place at the time to help develop the competencies. The new Key Content Areas also reflect these current standards. The following table is an overview of the old and new competencies areas.

Preface

The change in the name and branding of the Arkansas Early Childhood Professional Development System (AECPPDS) to TAPP (Traveling Arkansas' Professional Pathways) heralds a strong commitment to expand this professional development system beyond the traditional settings of early care and education to all settings where individuals are on a "journey for those who care and educate children, youth and families." TAPP anticipates encompassing and supporting those working with children from birth through adolescence in a variety of community-based settings, including center-based and family child care, out-of-school time programs, and home visiting programs. At present, professional language to encompass this broad range of settings and services is not clearly defined. Therefore, as this set of competencies is read, the term early care and education will emerge. Early care and education serves as a marker for staff from ANY program involved in TAPP. As the field comes to consensus on terminology, work will be done to include that language into the competencies. Please do not let the lack of professional vocabulary interfere with the understanding of and use of these competencies.

This set of competencies is written to address all those who work in programs involved in TAPP. The next step will be to develop age-specific competencies: infant/toddler, preschool, and school age. These age-specific competencies will nest within this system-wide set so to build a coherent set of competencies for the system as a whole. School age competencies will be the first of the specialized age groups to be developed and approved; infant/toddler and preschool will follow later. The work on the school-age competencies has been driven by the Arkansas Out of School Network (www.aosn.org) and the recently established Governor's Task Force on Best Practices for After School and Summer Programs.

The competencies herein are based on three levels of professional competency. The Core Competency Committee acknowledged the importance of balancing simplicity, so as to not overwhelm practitioners, with meaningful and readily differentiated professional levels. There was agreement early in the process that the three basic levels: Beginner, Intermediate, and Advanced, met those criteria and honored the professional career lattice (The SPECTRUM) Arkansas currently has in place. The following chart helps to define and differentiate how these three levels are envisioned. Note that the competencies of any lower level are encompassed within the higher levels.

	Foundation Competencies	Intermediate Competencies (includes foundation competencies)	Advanced Competencies (includes foundation and intermediate competencies)
Targeted Staff Roles	Assistant Teachers (individuals with limited responsibility for planning the learning environment and curriculum)	Lead Teachers, Assistant Directors, Administration Team members (individuals responsible for planning and implementing learning environments and curriculum)	Lead Teacher, Educational Coordinator, Curriculum Supervisor, Site Director, Owner, Agency/Central Office staff, Early Childhood Consultant (individuals with responsibilities for developing, implementing, monitoring and evaluating policies and procedures based on current research and best practices/evidence based practice; modeling for and supervising other staff)
Targeted Professional Education	High school diploma, GED or advanced degree unrelated to early childhood/school-age	Child Development Associate credential; One year technical certificate in early childhood education or related area; Associate Degree in early childhood education or related field (AA, AS, AAS)	Baccalaureate degrees (and beyond) in an appropriate area for the age/setting with which the individual works. Degrees appropriate for working directly with children and programs serving young children (birth to five) may differ than those appropriate for working with school age children. Appropriate degrees could include: early childhood education, family and child development, human development, recreation, and elementary education. This list is not meant to be exhaustive, but to provide examples of the expected level of competency and professional knowledge for the advanced level member.
Experience	Limited or extended experience with limited professional development	Work experience or professional preparation (preferably with extended field experience) sufficient to plan and implement curriculum and learning environments and support assistant teachers within the classroom	Work experience or professional preparation (preferably with extended field experience) sufficient to develop, implement, monitor and evaluate policies and procedures based on current research and best practice/evidence-based practices; develop, implement and evaluate curriculum and learning environments; and model for and supervise other staff.

Targeted professional preparation is related to the expectations of the individuals. Degrees and programs listed in the chart are not meant to place individuals on a career lattice.

The leveled competencies defined within this document serve at least four different, yet connected audiences.

- The competencies can assist each individual working in TAPP related programs to identify both their own strengths and areas for potential growth and targeted professional development.
- The programs may find the competencies helpful in many different ways, such as in hiring and evaluating staff and planning how the program can support its staff's professional development.
- The system itself will use the competencies to identify what level different professional development opportunities target; this will allow the system to identify areas of need and also better evaluate the effectiveness of the professional development provided within the state.
- Families choosing child care may find these competencies helpful as consumer education; they may be better able to determine the quality of care in programs they consider as they evaluate the staff's competencies.

For each and every audience, the ultimate beneficiary should be the children, youth and families of Arkansas, who experience increasingly improved quality of care and experiences.

Definitions of Key Content Areas

Key Content Areas (KCA) are a set of content areas that define what early care and education professionals should know and understand in order to provide quality experiences for children, regardless of the setting in which care and education occurs.¹

- 1. Child Growth and Development: Understand how children acquire language and creative expression and develop physically, cognitively, and socially.²
- 2. Learning Environment and Curriculum: Establish an environment that provides learning experiences that meet each child's needs, capabilities, and interests.²
- 3. Positive Interactions and Guidance: Establish supportive relationships with children and guide them as individuals and as a part of a group.²
- 4. Family and Community: Work collaboratively with families and agencies/organizations to meet children's needs and to encourage the community's involvement with early care and education.²
- 5. Child Observation and Assessment: Observe and assess what children know and can do in order to provide curriculum that meets their developmental and learning needs.²
- 6. Health, Safety, and Nutrition: Establish and maintain an environment that ensures children's healthy development, safety, and nourishment.²
- 7. Professional Development and Leadership: Serve children and families in a professional manner and participate in the community as a representative of early childhood care and education.²
- 8. Program Planning and Management: Establish, implement, and evaluate an early care and education program.²

Key Content Area 1 — Child Growth and Development

Understand how children acquire language and creative expression and develop physically, cognitively, and socially.²

Developmental Areas
Foundation Competencies	Intermediate Competencies (includes foundation competencies)	Advanced Competencies (includes foundation and intermediate competencies)
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <input type="checkbox"/> Defines terms describing developmental areas: cognitive, physical, language, social-emotional, and creative development.^{1,8} <input type="checkbox"/> Gives examples of activities that show a child's development in each developmental area. <input type="checkbox"/> Describes how the fulfillment of basic needs relate to child growth and development (physical, cognitive, social-emotional, language).⁸ 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <input type="checkbox"/> Identifies major theories and theorists of child development.⁸ <input type="checkbox"/> Describes how that the developmental areas are interrelated.^{1,3} <input type="checkbox"/> Plans curriculum and experiences that address the needs of young children within the developmental areas.^{1,3,4,5,9} <input type="checkbox"/> Summarizes the basic findings from relevant developmental research (brain research, early literacy, social-emotional, etc.).⁸ 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <input type="checkbox"/> Articulates, analyzes, evaluates, and applies current theory, policies, and research on child growth and development.^{1,2,3,5,7,8,9} <input type="checkbox"/> Uses theories to explain how children learn and develop within the domains.^{1,2} <input type="checkbox"/> Applies intentionally knowledge of developmental theories to meet children's individual needs in the group setting.^{1,4,5,7,9} <input type="checkbox"/> Models and shares information about developmental areas with staff/colleagues and families.^{1,2,3,7,9} <input type="checkbox"/> Critiques current and future trends in education and the larger society and the implications for children's development.⁹

Developmental Stages and Areas
Foundation Competencies	Intermediate Competencies (includes foundation competencies)	Advanced Competencies (includes foundation and intermediate competencies)

Development Through Play

Foundation Competencies	Intermediate Competencies (includes foundation competencies)	Advanced Competencies (includes foundation and intermediate competencies)
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <input type="checkbox"/> Recognizes the benefits of play to the developing child. <input type="checkbox"/> Recognizes that play is different for various ages. <input type="checkbox"/> Give examples of how children learn through play. <input type="checkbox"/> Promotes learning by participating in child-initiated play.^{1,4,7} <input type="checkbox"/> Utilizes learning centers (or interest areas) to encourage learning and development through play.¹ 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <input type="checkbox"/> Describes specific developmental outcomes children learn through play (e.g., play with puzzles helps children practice fine motor skills).^{1,2,3,4,7,8,9} <input type="checkbox"/> Describes the stages of plays. <input type="checkbox"/> Provides an environment that supports the stages of play. <input type="checkbox"/> Communicates the importance of play with colleagues, families, and communities. <input type="checkbox"/> Discusses with and encourages family to facilitate learning through play. <input type="checkbox"/> Designs, adapts, and utilizes learning centers to encourage learning and development through play.¹ <input type="checkbox"/> Provides a responsive environment where children initiate and extend their learning through play.^{1,3} 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <input type="checkbox"/> Articulates, analyzes, evaluates, and applies current theory, policies, and research on play. <input type="checkbox"/> Develops strategies that support children's role in planning curriculum.¹ <input type="checkbox"/> Demonstrates through examples to staff/colleagues and families that children learn and develop through play.¹ <input type="checkbox"/> Advocates the importance of play with colleagues, families, and communities. <input type="checkbox"/> Observers and analyzes children's play referring to the stages described by developmental theorist. <input type="checkbox"/> Recognizes the strength of using play as a medium for observing, assessing, and understanding children and their development.

Individual Needs and Differences

Foundation Competencies	Intermediate Competencies (includes foundation competencies)	Advanced Competencies (includes foundation and intermediate competencies)
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <input type="checkbox"/> Interacts with children as individuals.^{1,4,9} <input type="checkbox"/> Describes developmental differences and unique characteristics of children.^{1,2,3,4,5,7,8,9} <input type="checkbox"/> Defines individually appropriate practice.^{1,4} <input type="checkbox"/> Recognizes that children have different temperaments and learning styles. <input type="checkbox"/> Recognizes that stress resulting from trauma, abuse, neglect, poverty, and other factors impacts children's growth development.⁸ 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <input type="checkbox"/> Applies theories within developmental areas to work individual children.^{1,4} <input type="checkbox"/> Implements individually appropriate practice.^{1,4} <input type="checkbox"/> Adapts daily experiences to address each child's needs, temperament, interests, and learning styles.^{1,2,3,4,7,8,9} <input type="checkbox"/> Describes the potential effects of stress on individual children's development and behavior and recognizes physical or behavior changes that may indicate the presence of stress in children's lives.^{8,9} <input type="checkbox"/> Collaborates with families (as needed) in planning learning experiences for children's individual needs.⁷ 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <input type="checkbox"/> Integrates information on growth, development, and learning patterns of individuals and groups and applies to practice.^{1,2,3,5,7,8,9} <input type="checkbox"/> Develops, implements, and monitors the program for children to address each child's needs, temperament, interests, and learning style.^{1,3,5} <input type="checkbox"/> Integrates research, theories, policies, and knowledge to create meaningful learning environments for all children.³ <input type="checkbox"/> Collaborates with consultants, community partners, and families (as needed) in planning learning experiences for children's individual needs.⁷

Children with Identified Special Needs

Foundation Competencies	Intermediate Competencies (includes foundation competencies)	Advanced Competencies (includes foundation and intermediate competencies)
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <input type="checkbox"/> Follows consistently specific requirements for children in their care. For example, those with Individual Education Plans (IEP), Individual Family Service Plans (IFSP), medical or nutritional needs, etc.^{1,2,3} <input type="checkbox"/> Understands that there are legal requirements concerning children with special needs. <input type="checkbox"/> Accepts special needs variations and the effects those variations may have on behavior and development.⁹ 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <input type="checkbox"/> Participates in the planning team for children with special needs.^{1,7} <input type="checkbox"/> Articulates the basic understanding of the special needs and disabilities laws and the rights of children and families.¹ <input type="checkbox"/> Articulates possible limitations, adaptations, strengths of children with special needs.^{1,5} <input type="checkbox"/> Partners with families to meet the special needs of children. <input type="checkbox"/> Uses appropriate resources and services for children with special needs.^{2,7,9} 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <input type="checkbox"/> Develops, implements, and monitors policies and practices that support inclusion.^{1,2,7adapted} <input type="checkbox"/> Develops, implements, and monitors activities to meet individual requirements of children with special needs.¹ <input type="checkbox"/> Integrates goals from IEP (individualized education plan) and IFSP (individualized family service plan) into daily activities, routines, and curriculum planning.⁷ <input type="checkbox"/> Researches, collaborates, and provides assistive technology, resources, and services for children with special needs.

Effects of Cultural Differences

Foundation Competencies	Intermediate Competencies (includes foundation competencies)	Advanced Competencies (includes foundation and intermediate competencies)
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <input type="checkbox"/> Recognizes cultural and linguistic variations and the effects those variations may have on behavior and development. <input type="checkbox"/> Speaks positively about cultural differences as they arise in the program.¹ <input type="checkbox"/> Accepts children's non-stereotypical play choices (e.g., boys playing in dramatic play, girls playing in blocks).¹ <input type="checkbox"/> Consistently follows established adaptations for children with cultural or religious needs (e.g., celebrations and holidays).¹ 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <input type="checkbox"/> Provides materials and activities, partnering with families, that affirm and respect cultural/ethnic/linguistic diversity.^{1,2,3,8,9} <input type="checkbox"/> Provides children opportunities to explore non-stereotypical play choices. <input type="checkbox"/> Models acceptance for cultural differences.^{1,7} <input type="checkbox"/> Diffuses negative comments by children about issues of gender, race, religion, culture, ethnicity, and class. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <input type="checkbox"/> Develops, implements, monitors policies and practices that support cultural differences. <input type="checkbox"/> Communicates with families and staff/colleagues regarding non-stereotypical play choices.¹ <input type="checkbox"/> Communicates with families and staff/colleagues the variety of cultural values and traits represented within the program.¹ <input type="checkbox"/> Identifies and discusses issues in child development arising from differences in gender, race, religion, culture, ethnicity, and class with colleagues, staff, families, and communities.^{8,9} <input type="checkbox"/> Creates an environment supportive of multiple perspectives and viewpoints of the cultural differences on child development.

Key Content Area 2 — Learning Environment and Curriculum

Establish an environment that provides learning experiences that meet each child's needs, capabilities, and interests.²
